The Late Harbour Stories from the Northern Coast and the Keepe

by Helena Calloway

First published 1981

About this book

It begins in an old city of canals: the last train never comes back and an apprentice clockmaker is the only one who remembers why

A quiet novel about memory and forgiveness.