The Long Harbour Stories from the Northern Coast and the Keep

by Eleanor Fairbairn

First published 1995 • This edition 2003

About this book

When the migrating birds leave a month early, a newly arrived pos in a mountain village cut off by snow has to decide what is worth keeping.

In seventeen short chapters that move between past and present, asks about how time changes a place.